Iowa Expert Finishes Three Days with Better Than 95 Per Cent.

TAYLOR OF SOUTH DAKOTA HIGH AMATEUR

Annual Shoot Under Guidance of Omaha Gun Club Proves One of Most Successful Ever Held in West.

The annual interstate shoot held the last three days under the auspices of the Omaha Gun club at the shooting park across the river was closed yesterday afternoon. Aside from the wind that prevalled most of yesterday the weather conditions were generally favorable for the shoot, which has been voted one of the most successful events of the kind given in this part of the country for some time. Nearly eighty crack amateur and professional trappists from all parts of the country, particularly the middle west, participated in the various events.

Of the professionals who shot for targets, Fred Gilbert of Spirit Lake, Ia., made the highest score in the thirty-six events of the three days, breaking 580 bluerock targets out of a possible 600. W. P. Crosby of O'Fallon, Ill., was second professional, with a record of 579, while W. H. Heer of Concordis, Kan., won third professional honors with 578 out of 600 targets.

H. G. Taylor of Mecklin, S. D., was high amateur, with a total score of 561 out of 600 targets in the thirty-six events. C. M. Powers of Decatur, Ill., was second amateur with 558, and Adolph Oleson of Holdrege was third with 557. Taylor is fast gaining for himself a reputation as a trap 1:08% shooter. Out of the last thirteen tournaments he has attended he has won twelve general high scores and nearly $6,000 in Fred C. Whitney of Des Moines handled the clerical end of the meet with unqualified satisfaction. Charles A. North had charge of the two traps, which threw 45,000 bluerock targets during the sixteen hours of actual shooting time of the meet.

Weatherhead Wins Cup and Watch Combs trophy and Townsend gold watch, Frank Weatherhead of Red Oak, William Hoon of Jewel, Ia., and William Veach of Falls City tied, the tie being shot off at twenty-five targets, Weatherhead making 24. Hoon 23 and Veach 22. Mr. Weatherhead left for his home last evening with the cup and watch.

Gilbert made the highest daily score yesterday that was made by anyone at the shoot. In the morning he broke 98 targets out of the 100, and in the afternoon 99 out of the 100, missing but three targets in the 200 for the day. He made perfect scores in the last five events. Taylor, the amateur, made the second best score yesterday with 193 targets out of his 200 shot at.

WITH THE BOWLERS.

On the association alleys last night the Krug Parks won three games from the Omahas. This makes possible a great race to the finish of the season, only three weeks away. If the Onimods can win three games tonight from the Storz team they will tie the leaders, but it's not always an easy matter to turn that trick. Huntington headed the bunch again, and with 627 is now within 36 pins of Potter, who leads the league. Clay also rolled a steady game and piled up 617. Score:

White and Britt Matched. White and Britt Matched.

NEW YORK. March 22.—Charles Mitchell, manager for Jalez White, the lightwelght champion of England, announced today that a match had been made by telegraph for a fight between White and James Britt. The date of the match and the amount of the purses were yet undecided, Mitchell said, but the division of the purse would probably be either 75 per cent to the winner and 25 per cent to the winner and 25 per cent to the loser or 60 and 40 per cent respectively. Mitchell said also that White and himself would leave New York tonight for the Pacific coast, going by way of Buffalo and Chicago. White will go into training for the fight as soon as he reaches the coast.

DEBATE ON CITY CHARTER

Real Estate Exchange Hears Two Sides of Case Argued.

JOHN L. M'CAGUE ATTACKS DOCUMENT

Points Out What Appear to Him to Be Dangerous Defects and City Attorney Breen Explains the Provisions.

City Attorney Breen, John L. McCague H. W. Pennock and others in a less degree discussed the amended, patched and tinkered charter for an hour before a few members of the Real Estate exchange. Mr. McCague was the most intent of the speakers and sailed into the proposed form of of catarra, government in about this manner:

Mr. Breen admits the charter before the legistature has been amended by him eighty-two times. Has it occurred to your honorable city attorney that if he could find eighty-two places where changes are necessary how many more the citizens of Omaha could find? As a real estate owner I wish to say in all earnessness that if it becomes a law our city was receive a stroke it will take years to recover from. The charter has been gotten up by a suggestion here and there by people not sufficiently interested in the city. Men who have the interest of the city at heart have worked at the charter in a desultory way, but have not had the opportunity to ingraft their ideas on it. The proposed charter is so full of holes I doubt if it could stand before the supreme court. This is too important a matter to be taktn up in this desultory way. Omaha citizens should appoint a commission to make a charter in which all interests shall have a hand.

Its Effect on Assessments. government in about this manner:

Its Effect on Assessments. After years of effort we have got the as-sessment on the basis of a fair selling value for property. This is as it is in other cities. If the amended charter becomes the law, we will have to go back to the present county and state assessment at one-fifth the value, and state assessment at one-fifth the value. It will be a stroke the city will not get over for years. We will have a valuation of twenty millions and not one hundred and twenty-five as now—we will be looked on as a county seat and not as a city. Will you submit to a millage of 8? What will outside property owners say when you send them a tax bill of 7 or 8 per cent?

The charter is full of errors from top to bottom. As a member of the school board. I wish to point out that it makes no provision for a school treasurer, no provision for his bond, and that it cuts the school board out entirely and leave us to run on a credit basis until we can get the law changed next year or can go into the supreme court.

Breen Defends His Work. Mr. Breen bastened to point to Mr. Mc-Cague that he and his attorneys are entirely wrong in supposing the school board has been cut off from its source of income. He said the school board exists under the general laws, which are not affected in any probably have the information about asway, and the board can go on as it has phaltum that I desire.

Mr. Breen, "is to consolidate the taxing and assessing bodies of the county and city. These changes, together with the abolition of the Advisory board and the Board of Utah. Public Works, are the real changes in the charter. Almost all of the others in the eighty-two amendments are merely changes in punctuation and in diction which make them legally correct. There can be no reason to question the benefits which will follow these changes. We attempted to make it so that all taxes should be paid at one place at one time and be placed all on one certificate, but the corporate interests made a strong fight not to change the time of payment for city taxes, so that we let that remain. But the average citizen will have no difficulty in paying everything at once in one office, which will do away with great confusion. Another benefit is that the charter will absolutely limit

Pennock States Objections H. W. Pennock raised some points about taxation and objected to the charter because, he said, it created nine new ways in which special taxes may be levied on property owned. "It gives the council," he said, "power to levy an immense amount of money on property which there is no way to escape. It hits property owners very hard. there should be an error in the notice so that property owners do not know of the work proposed it makes no difference. It puts great power in the hands of the council.' Mr. Breen denied that the changed charter would give any increased power of taxation.

lowed for the departments."

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL

Pew People Know How Eseful it is in Preserving Health and Senuty.

Nearly overybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose. Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intes-tines and carries them out of the system. Charcoal sweetens the breath after smok ing, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables.

Charcoal effectually clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently sufe cathartic. It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disin-fects the mouth and throat from the poison All druggists sell charcoal in one form or the finest powdered Willow charcoal, and other harmless antiseptics in tablet form or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is, that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but on the contrary, great benefit. A Buffalo physician in speaking of the benefits of charcoal, says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but twenty-five cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

JURY DRAWING IN DOUGLAS

Investigation of Method of County Board is Well Under Way.

JUDGES DETERMINE TO GO THROUGH

Motions to Delay or Quash the Objection Are Overruled and Taking of Testimony as to Lists Starts,

The district court judges on Wednesday morning started in to investigate in earnest the method of making up the jury lists for Douglas county. They overruled all motions looking to delay in the matter or to throwing out the motion to quash. In opposition to the motion of Weaver &

Giller to have the entire 1906 list quashed another, but probably the best charcoat and declared void, appeared Judge Holmes Charcoal Lozenges; they are composed of as the active attorney in the case at bar in which the question was raised and County Attorney Slabaugh as the official adviser of the county board. Both raised the points that the motion is not proper at this time and that it introduced matters not at all pertaining to the case in which it was made, or, rather, which was seized on as the excuse for making it. After a short consultation Judges Day. Estelle, Kennedy and Redick, sitting en banc, overruled the motion. When Deputy County Clerk Dan Butler was put on the stand to identify the lists handed in to the county clerk's office by the five county commissioners, objection was again raised and a long argument made by Judge Holmes against the receipt of testimony going to the merits of the lists as made up. It, too, was overruled, and the whole pro ceeding will apparently be gone into.

Inquisition Under Way. After the motion to throw out the pro ceeding had been fought and beaten by Weaver & Giller, I. J. Dunn assumed the position of questioner. Mr. Butler identified the lists and explained the method of checking in the county clerk's office. He admitted it might be possible to get the same name into the jury wheel on more than one slip of paper without the clerk being aware of the fact. The people who write the lists out on the slips are depended on to check them over by the commissioners' lists. Mr. Dunn pointed out three duplications on the list as copied into the book in the county clerk's office. They were repetitions of the names of Dominick Cosgrove, Jeremiah Howard and James E. Connolly, How-present panel and Cosgrove and Connolly Mr. Butler had no personal knowledge by which he could account for the appearance of the names twice on the list. At a second session, which continued until 5:15 o'clock, the court heard testimony from Chairman Kennard and Commission ers Hofeldt, Bruning, McDonald and Trainor, and from former Commissioners

All of the witnesses agreed in saying preparing it as it is when laid for pave- that, while there might have been some carelessness in making up the lists, so far as strict compliance with the letter of the pavement the proportions are about as law is concerned, they had exercised their follows: Sand, 85 per cent; bitumen, from best judgment in the preparation of the Preparation of Lists.

The testimony indicates that it has been the habit for the commissioners to the preparation of the lists to a clerk, to whom they would furnish names and give instructions. They held it to be an impossibility to prepare so large a list of names and know the qualifications of the men. Each man expressed this view on the stand and freely admitted that his personal investigation had been somewhat perfunctory. Listening members of the bar smiled and shook their heads wisely while the commissioners were testifying. This was especially true when Mr. Kennard said there was one name on his list that he had not put on or authorized, and that he did not know who had put it on; also when witnesses admitted that they could not explain the appearance of the same name twice or account for men on the 1905 list who had served in 1904. The hearing will be concluded this morning and to hasten it the judges will meet at 9 o'clock.

The confidence of the public is the final proof of merit.
